

To my many cherished customers and students:

Dear friends,

The year 2010 is the year of metamorphosis for me and for Trinity. As we all know, change - even when it's for the better - is a difficult thing, and I realize that this one is as difficult for you as it has been for me.

I have loved operating Trinity, and serving your retail needs over these thirteen years, and I will miss my many customers coming in to say hello.

I have been blessed to have had such dedicated and talented students, and conducting the classes and workshops has been most rewarding for me. My students have taught me a great deal, and I wouldn't trade the experience for anything.

As many of you know, it has been my dream to be able to focus on my custom work, and this is the year I have finally decided to do just that.

I will miss having you all come in to visit and learn, and I hope that we are able to stay in touch and continue to help each other way into the future.

THANK YOU ALL SO MUCH FOR THE PLEASURE OF HAVING SERVED YOU FOR ALL OF THESE YEARS,

Amy
